Happy Father's Day

Happy Father's Day to all the Dads, grandfathers and significant males in the lives of our Preschool children.

We hope you have a wonderful weekend and you have quality time with your children.

We enjoyed hearing why the significant males are the best in the children's eyes. We hope you treasure your gifts made by love from your children.

See you at breakfast on Friday!

Change in Routine and Roles and Responsibilities in Preschool

The children are adapting to a few changes in our routine and becoming even more settled. This week, session one brainstormed a variety of roles and responsibilities needed in our Preschool and linked the names to Police Officers as they help us!

Stay tuned for photos and names, the children will have opportunities to take on the roles and responsibilities in our Preschool.

Save the Dates

End of year dates have now been set for you to add to your calendar: more information such as times will be give closer to the dates.

Handwashing

The children are showing great improvement in their handwashing skills and singing our song is really helping.

We would love for you to continue singing it at home:

Tops and bottom

Tops and bottom

In between, In between

Scrub them all together, Scrub them all together.

Now you're clean, squeaky clean!

Happy Book Week!
